ABORTION COVERAGE FOR LOW-INCOME WOMEN

2021 National Poll Highlights

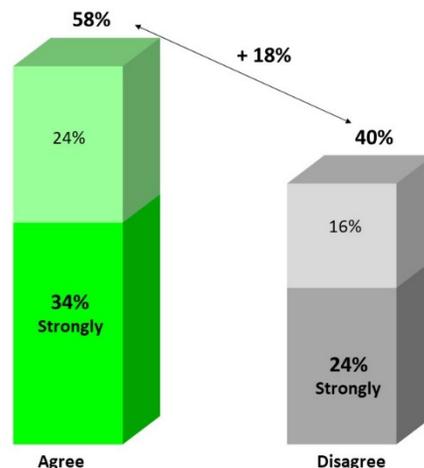

Strong Support for Insurance Coverage of Abortion

Washington, DC, March 22, 2021 – According to a new Ipsos poll conducted on behalf of All* Above All, nearly six in ten Americans support public and private insurance coverage for abortion.

Nearly six in ten Americans believe that health insurance should cover abortion, whether it is public or private insurance.

- Nationally, 58% of the public favors coverage of abortion care, compared to 40% who disagree.
- There are even higher rates of support for insurance coverage of abortion among young people ages 18 – 24 (68%), people under 50 (64%) and women (62%).
- Additionally, two-thirds (66%) of people who may be feeling economically insecure support coverage agree with this.¹

Do you agree or disagree with the following:
Everyone’s health insurance, whether it is private or government-funded, should cover their reproductive health care, including abortion.

¹ People who say they are only slightly confident or not at all confident they could come up with $2,000 for unexpected needs.

Findings from an online survey conducted by Ipsos Public Affairs’ KnowledgePanel® Omnibus, 3/12/21 – 3/14/20 among a national sample of 1,020 people. The sample is demographically and geographically representative and is consistent with the political dispositions of voters nationally. The margin of error among the total number is +/- 3.4 percentage points at the 95% confidence level. For more information about the poll, please contact Alexa Garcia-Ditta at alexa@conwaystrategic.com
